

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

NEW-YORK.

Frank Jenkins, the man who was drowned by the sinking of the sloop yacht Amelia, which was run into by the tugboat F. W. Devoe in the Hudson River off West One Hundred and Twelfth Street, shortly before midnight last Sunday, was found yesterday floating in the water off West Ninety seventh Street. He was forty-eight years old, and was the proprietor of an art embroidery establishment at 185 Spring Street. The body of William H. Bahan, the young son of Dr. Bahan, of 257 West Fourteenth Street, has not yet been recovered.

Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio, recently appointed an agent of the Treasury Department to go abroad to promote the interests of the World's Fair, was a passenger on the Cunard steamer Aurania, which sailed for Liverpool yesterday. Joseph Powderly, brother of Terence V. Powderly, a member of the commission appointed to go abroad to investigate the subject of immigration, sailed on the same ship. Mr. Powderly's associates of the commission sail next week.

Beginning to-morrow, the Providence Line steamers for Boston will leave at 6 P. M. instead of 5:30. The steamers Connecticut and Massachusetts will leave Pier 29, foot of Warren Street, each day at that hour. Connecting parlor-car trains will arrive in Boston at the same hour as at present, 7:15 A. M. This line has the longest water route and the shortest rail ride of any Sound line, thus giving its patrons a full night's rest and an early arrival. A fine orchestra and a deck dining room is on each steamer.

In Roman Catholic Churches throughout the world to-day there will be observed the festival of St. Aloysius Gonzaga. At St. Francis Xavier's, in West Sixteenth Street, Archbishop Corrigan will celebrate the 11 o'clock mass. At 8 o'clock vespers the Rev. John B. Young, S. J., will direct the choir of sixty men and boys. Two new marble statues of the Jesuit saints Stanislaus and John Berchmans will be blessed.

The Shelter Island fast express on the Long Island Railroad, which was so popular last season, will commence running June 25, leaving Long Island City 3 P. M., Brooklyn 2:55 P. M. The Summer time table will not take effect until June 27. A large increase in rolling stock and ten new engines have been received, and fast time and good service will be the rule.

The report of the Central Park Meteorological Observatory for the week ending at noon yesterday shows a mean barometer of 29.807 inches, with a range of only .412; a mean thermometer of 73.6°, maximum, June 16, at 3 P. M., 97°, and minimum, at 7 A. M., June 19, 56°. During the week the wind traveled 1,137 miles, and there was a rainfall of only .84 inch.

Dr. Farquhar Ferguson, pathologist of the New-York Hospital, will sail in the interest of that institution for Berlin Tuesday on the Spree to spend the season studying bacteriology and the use of the latest instruments employed in chemical experiments. His wife, who is a daughter of O. H. Armour, will accompany him.

It has been found necessary to give a few more rehearsals to the next great spectacle which Pain & Sons will produce, under the title of "Paris, from Empire to Commune," in the new amphitheatre at Manhattan Beach. That is the reason why it was postponed from last night until next Tuesday evening.

Christian Hager, a German, fifty-three years old, who kept a candy store at 439 West Fortyninth Street, near Tenth Avenue, while intoxicated yesterday swallowed a quantity of Paris green with suicidal intent. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where he died last evening.

The Charity Organization Society acknowledges the receipt of $168 in response to its recent appeal for the hapless Austrian who lost both hands. More money is needed to render him secure from want and the society renews its appeals.

A bright exception to the prevailing rule of closed amusement houses is the Eden Musée, where the Columbia ballet continues its success. The Japanese acrobats and jugglers continue to please. The usual sacred concerts will be given to-day.

Golda Finkelstein, six years old, of 43 Eldridge Street, was run over in front of her home yesterday by a horse and wagon driven by Henry Eggers of 343 East Twenty-fifth Street, and was crushed to death. Eggers was arrested.

The $2,500,000 of gold coin shipped from this port for Europe yesterday was divided between the Saale and La Bourgogne, each taking out $1,250,000. La Bourgogne also had on board $17,000 in silver.

The formal opening of the new clubhouse of the Building Trades Club of this city will take place Thursday evening next. The clubhouse is at 117 East Twenty-third Street.

"A Reader."—No such railroad appears in Poor's Manual, nor is it known in Wall Street.

J. H. Halsted has sent $1 to THE TIMES office for little Elsie Wilson.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The report of the Commissioners appointed to assess the land damages for property in Mount Vernon required by the New-York, New-Haven and Hartford Railroad Company for road improvements was yesterday confirmed by Justice Dykman of White Plains. They allow an average of about $600 a lot to the property owners.

The cornerstone of the new Capuchin monastery and church will be laid this afternoon by Bishop Seldenbush of Minnesota on the property purchased by the order at Yonkers. The building is to be of graystone, with 130 feet front and an "L" of 130 feet, three stories in height.

John Buckley, a laborer on the farm of Rich Brothers, in the town of North Castle, disappeared last Wednesday. Friday night he was found dead in the hay loft. Coroner Drows of Mount Vernon was notified to hold an inquest.

Judge Dykman took papers yesterday after hearing argument on the application for the reinstatement of ex-Village Clerk Delehanty as Clerk of Williams's Bridge. He said that in his opinion Delehanty was unjustly removed.

STATEN ISLAND.

The examination in the case of Father O'Dwyer, assistant priest at St. Peter's Church, New-Brighton, S. I., who was arrested for assault, was yesterday adjourned to Tuesday, as the counsel for defense was not able to be present. It is reported that Archbishop Corrigan has requested Father O'Dwyer to call at his residence in this city to make an explanation of the alleged assault.

NEW-JERSEY.

The people of Bayonne, N. J., want the Hudson County Boulevard built through Avenue B in that town, while the Freeholders want to build it through Avenue A, and give as the reason that Standard Oil pipes through the former will interfere with the work. Friday a delegation of the citizens called on the representatives of the Standard Oil Company, who agreed to move the pipes and lend their influence for the building of the boulevard through Avenue B.

The water supply of Bayonne, N. J., was not shut off yesterday, as threatened by the Jersey City Street and Water Commissioners. Representatives from the two Municipal Governments held a conference in Jersey City the previous day, but did not come to an agreement. They will meet again. Bayonne's contract with Jersey City expired last November, from which time the Montclair Water Company was to furnish the water, but failed.

A train of coal cars was wrecked on the Jersey Central Railway at Dunellen, N. J., yesterday afternoon, and east-bound trains were considerably delayed by the blocking of the track. No one was injured. The accident was caused by one of the cars jumping a switch. A number of cars were smashed into kindling wood.

Ex-Paymaster John Tucker, convicted of embezzling money from his employers, the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was sentenced to the county jail for five months at Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday. The court would have suspended sentence had Tucker acknowledged his guilt.

At the regular monthly shoot of the Midway Gun Club at Matawan, N. J., Friday, James Van Brockle killed seven birds out of eight and secured the club badge. James H. Bedie won the second prize by killing six.

Jennie Wiley (white) and Samuel S. Beekman (colored) were sentenced at Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday to ten years in State prison for beating to death a six-year-old child, Beekman's daughter.

William Fox, a trackman employed on the Erie Railway, died at St. Francis's Hospital, Jersey City, yesterday morning in consequence of having been struck by a train.

Elizabeth Krob, who had been demented for some time, hanged herself at her home in Central Avenue, Jersey City Heights, yesterday.